BUSINESS

APPROVED PROJECTS PROGRESS REPORT

Board Member Bill Keel gave an update on the progress of ongoing projects. The young man from the WRA that came to the last meeting was able to get the railroad ties for free, so he was able to expand his project. After walking the range and making the plans, they figured it would take 60 railroad ties. This would do the area behind the target pads and then take it the rest of the way across to make it look nice. Board Member Keel was able to get 100 railroad ties and the weekend of the 4th of July with help from Delta City, the ties were picked up and stored in the Delta City Shop yard. The youth will take what they need as they work on the project so that they don't sit out there and get taken. The gift of the ties was worth about $1000.00 and it was suggested by Board Member Keel, to the young man that is planning the project to put a thank you in the paper to Intermountain Power Service Cooperation. They have donated a lot of things to the range lately. Board Member Keel stated that now they are just waiting for his project to get approval. The WRA require very strict adherence to the rules. The young man got approval to go forward with his project but if he slacks off a little bit, he will get pulled back. Board Member Bill Keel stated that he expects the project to be done by the end of fall. Also Board Member Keel bought up the fence project that a young man named Jim has proposed. The young man has been distracted by some problems at home. Delta City had promised upwards of $2200.00 for this project back in early spring. Board member Keel had concerns about the money still being available for the project so he spoke with the WRA to secure the materials. They agreed, the young man went and talked to the mayor and the money was still there. He ended up getting $1000.00 worth of six foot high chain link fencing donated by a private individual that had some used fence in good condition. He went to Losee's Lumber and ordered everything. Board member Keel has the chain link fencing at his house. Along with that, because they had saved so much money, he thought they could order the top rails too. Board Member Keel thought that this could be a separate service project for another young man. They ordered enough new top rails for everything, with the caps and the bands. As part of the same project, they are going to take down one of the inside entrance gate petitions to make it handicapped accessible. He asked the board if they had a preference to which petition to remove. It was suggested taking both down. Board Member Keel stated that they could use some parts from these. He said that everything is secure for Jim's project except sand and gravel, which will be purchased from Dutson's Supply. If this young man doesn't come through, Board Member Keel said that White River Academy will come as a group and complete the project. He said that he would like to see them move ahead and get some money from the NRA. He stated that he saw Mr. Nielson in the store and he said that now is a good time to apply for it and that they award it in November. The application deadline is right away. It was decided by the board to begin to work on the application process. Board Member Keel stated that he told the youth that the project needed to be done before the weather became an issue.

Chairman Nielson voiced his concern of these projects holding up the major dirt projects that they have going on. Board Member Keel responded by telling the board that they were planning on mixing their own cement. He said that the city is providing post hole augers and generators and anything that they can to help. He did not feel that it would interfere.

PARKING AREA DRAINAGE AND EROSION

Chairman Nielson pointed out that since the ground has been flattened out; the south banks are beginning to have major erosion. He feels that they have to figure out what to do about the erosion before putting the fence up. He also wants to figure out a better drainage for the pistol range. There was a discussion on putting a drainage pipe in while they were doing the dirt project. It was suggested that a grader would be brought in to put in a proper slope for drainage. Chairman Nielson said that he had access to some old telephone poles. He wondered about the feasibility of using them as barriers against dirt bikes and ATVs. There was a discussion on the erosion of bank and the need of a berm. Chairman Nielson said that he would talk to City Representative Ken Clark and ask his recommendation.

OTHER BUSINESS

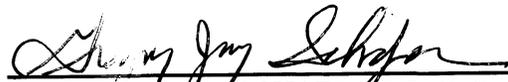

It was asked where they were at with the signs. Chairman Nielson said that he had gotten them sent in but that some of the wording had to be modified. He said that the city would have them within the week.

There was a discussion on the NRA money and future projects if the money were awarded. Chairman Nielson asked the board's opinion on enforcement at the range. A discussion followed about rules and penalties and fines. It was decided to have Todd advise them on this.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

There were no matters of unfinished business on the agenda.

Chairman Nielson declared the meeting adjourned at 7:59 p.m.
