

Earth Day
2020

EARTH DAY

2020

By Michelle Lovejoy

This is Planet Earth, it is where we live.
It has provided for us, now it's our turn to give.

Start a garden, or plant a tree,
create a beautiful world in everything you see.

Sunflowers, zinnias, petunias, and roses aren't just there to sniff with your noses.

Ladybugs keep them pest free for you,
now you can enjoy those flowers through and through.

Bees collect their pollen, and then they make honey,
Rich and golden, so sticky and yummy.

From sun up to sun down,
the beauty of nature is all around.

Questions to Ponder

What is your favorite thing about Earth?

What does the Earth do for you?

What can you do to celebrate the Earth?

Which artist drew which picture? (Answers below)

What would you draw to represent the Earth? Draw a picture of it in the box:

About the Artists

L to R: Jody, Sherri, Bridgette, Michelle and Rebecca

Earth Day is shared with Administrative Professionals Day.

These are our administrative professionals.

Their jobs include a lot of different tasks,
including painting the pictures for the Library's Story Time stories.

April 22, 2020
Earth Day