The following conditions must be met:

The Zoning Officer shall have the authority to grant or deny the permit. Once permission is granted it shall be considered valid until the permit is either vacated or revoked under the terms of City Ordinance. Permit is not transferable through the sale of the property. Permits are subject to annual review. Principle use of the property shall be one-family dwelling. Qualifying Regulations: Maximum number of chickens per 10,000 sf 14 8,000 sf 10 7,000 sf 8 6,000 sf 6 Accessory Buildings or Structures for Poultry (coop): Chickens shall be confined within a secure outdoor enclosed area. Enclosed area shall include a covered, ventilated, and predator-resistant chicken coop. If chickens are not allowed to roam within and enclosed area outside the coop, the coop shall have a minimum floor area of six (s) square feet per chicken. Location: Coop shall be located in a rear yard at least 15 feet from any property line and 6 feet from any dwelling. Special Conditions: Space required around buildings and structures shall be kept free from refuse and debris. All areas in which animals are kept shall be completely surrounded by an adequate fence or other barrier sufficient to prevent the escape of any such animals therefrom. Peripheral fences may be erected on the property line. All coops shall be kept in such conditions that no noxious odor is generated therefrom; that no such area becomes the breeding ground for insects or other pests; and that all other refuse shall be contained so as not to pollute any water or stream or constitute a public or private nuisance. Any person who changes the number of chickens kept for personal use family food production shall have an affirmative duty to file a new application and statement with the Delta City Zoning Office to assure compliance with the provisions set forth by ordinance.
